NEW GERMAN MENACE TO WORLD SEEN

Midnight Frolic Bared LEM MEN MULCTED BY GRAFTERS; SEEK TO OUST OFFICIAL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BOSTON, July 11.—A midnight frolic of four years ago at the home of a woman known as "Brownie Kennedy," whose husband several motion-picture producers, was described as having on a petition for the removal of Nathan A. Smith Attorney of Middlesex county.

The hearing, resulting from charges preferred by Atty. Gen. Allen, who alleges, among other things, that Tufts was concerned in a conspiracy for which the motion picture men paid $100,000 to escape prosecution threatened on account of their presence at the Mishawaka dinner party, being held before the bench of the Superior Court with five justices sitting.

BOSTON MAYOR MENTIONED.

James M. Curley, who at the time of the hearing was Mayor of Boston, was mentioned with several others in a deposition made by Hiram Abrams, one of the motion picture men, but no charge of conspiracy was made against him. Abrams said that it was the result of a "serious matter which was likely to arise" he came to Boston about two months after the hearing, was at the interview with Dist.-Atty. Tufts, who is president of the New England Baseball League, received the message while in Portland, Me., for the opening of the baseball season.

SOME DINNER CHECK.

The affair at Mishawaka Manor took place, according to the charge, on March 6, 1917. It followed a dinner at "Fatty" Arbuckle's, at the Copley Plaza Hotel in this city. About twenty or twenty-five persons were present in the dinner party, Abrams said in his deposition, and there were ten or twelve women at the house. The company remained from midnight until about a.m.

The bill for dinner amounted to $1850, and Abrams said he paid it. Daniel H. Coakley, Boston attorney, who had been brought into the case, after a conference at the Hotel Touraine, said he was asked by Mr. Abrams to address the Senate on the subject of the bill. The bill was passed by the Senate and presented to the House. He is now chairman of the Senate committee on finance.

In the second-time presentation of the bill, it was voted that the bill be referred to the Committee on Finance.

The bill was referred to the Committee on Finance, and the bill was debated the next day. The bill was then referred to the Committee on Finance, and the bill was referred to the Committee on Finance.

MONEY LOST TO NATION

America's Foreign Trade Falls.

Department of Commerce Report for the Fiscal Year Shows Large Deficit.

Slump of Three Billion About Evenly Divided Between Exports and Imports.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, July 11.—America's foreign trade fell off more than $3,000,000,000 during the fiscal year ended June 30, a summary of trade issued today by the Department of Commerce shows. The slump was evenly divided between exports and imports.

Exports for the year aggregated $6,519,000,000 as compared with $8,108,000,000 the year before, while imports amounted to $3,688,000,000 as against $3,328,000,000 the previous year. The trade balance in favor of the United States for the year was $2,852,000,000.

Exports in June totalled $340,000,000 as against $229,000,000 in May, and $229,000,000 in June, 1920, while imports were $188,000,000 compared with $184,000,000 in May and $182,000,000 in June, 1920.

The British delegation to leave Dublin tomorrow, accompanying De Valera, will include Arthur Griffith, Robert Barton and Austin Stack. Barton, who has just been released from a British prison, is a Wicklow land owner. Formerly he was in the army and now he is to be the "Minister of Agriculture" of the Irish republic. Stack is the "republican Minister of Home Affairs." Stack was born in Cork and was seriously injured by flying glass, as were Mr. and Mrs. H. Bunting, who were in the same coach.

MAT NOT BE GUESTS.

It is the wish of the British government that the delegation be its guests, but it is believed in official circles that the Irish will probably prefer to live independently.

Optimists remain in officialdom that the conference will be productive of peace. It will set the tone for the negotiations, with probably over a period of several months, and that the Irish delegation likely will be increased by financial and legal experts, "intrinsic financial and legislative constitutional points have to be settled."

LEMON EXCHANGE BURNS.

Causing a loss estimated at $1,000,000 last night, bright fire in thirty-year-old buildings at Hollywood occupied until last June 22 by the Cahuehu Lemon Exchange.

One warehouse, 100x200 feet, was destroyed, and another building, 100x60 feet, was badly damaged. There was no insurance.

The structures were owned by H. A. Toll of Hollywood. The Metro studio seemed for a time to be in danger, but was saved without damage being done to it. The fire was attributed to crossed wires.

WEEK-END OUTRAGES.

Dublin castle states that eighty-two dwelling houses were burned by the Dublin police during the week-end, and forty-one partially destroyed most of them being occupied by Catholics. Maj. O'Conor, the magistrate of Rochestown, County Cork, was killed and shot last night. Constable Clarke was shot dead at Skibbereen.

The curfew patrol at Castle Island, County Kerry, was attacked last night, three soldiers being killed and three wounded during the engagement. Four Sinn Feiners are believed to have been killed during the fighting but particulars are not available.

The latest outrage was reported at 11:30 a.m. today when a member of the Royal Irish constabulary was shot at Edenderry, thirty miles west of Dublin. He was seriously wounded.

It is declared that the British government will not consider sporadic acts of violence as true violations.

At a conference of some of the men at New London, it was agreed, he said, that all the complainants would be paid $100,000.

During June, silver exports aggregated $4,000,000, compared with $4,000,000 in June, 1920, while imports totaled $3,000,000 as against $6,000,000.

GOLD IMPORTS.

For the month of June gold imports aggregated $44,000,000, compared with $25,000,000 in June a year ago, while exports amounted to $7,773,000 as against $5,000,000 in June, 1920.

Silver exports for the fiscal year aggregated $52,000,000, compared with $178,000,000 in the previous year, while imports amounted to $85,000,000 as against $102,000,000 the fiscal year of 1920.

During June, silver exports aggregated $4,000,000, compared with $4,000,000 in June, 1920, while imports totaled $3,000,000 as against $6,000,000.

Rumored Lump Sum of Alimony to be Made by Millionaire.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, July 11.—Peggy Hopkins Joyce will receive a settlement of $500,000 in a lump sum of alimony from her millionaire husband, James Stanley Joyce, before the final hearing of her bill for separate maintenance and his cross-bill is brought to a close before Judge Joseph Sabath, in the Superior Court, next fall, according to rumors today.

Both counsel for Peggy and the attorney for Mr. Joyce were reticent in regard to the amount of settlement, stating that they did not know that such an arrangement had been made.

At the office of Joyce's counsel, it was stated that there were no papers on hand from the ruling Judge Sabath, who has allowed Peggy $56,200 for temporary alimony, attorneys' fees and the cost of refusing the charges her husband has made against her. This appeal, it was said, would be filed within the next week.

Peggy's attorneys denied the offer of settlement had so far been made to them although it was admitted some mutual friend of the couple may be attempting to arrange a settlement.

"My object in saying these things is to lay the foundation for a settlement," he said. "Our friends are attempting to arrange a settlement for us."

PLAN MEMORIAL TO HONOR LANE.

Friends of Late Secretary Raise $100,000.

Will be Erected in All of the National Parks.

Interest of Fund Will be Paid Widow During Life.

(EXCLUSIVE REPORTAGE)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—As a testimonial of the esteem in which he was held, friends of the late Franklin K. Lane have raised a memorial fund of $100,000. Eventually the principal of this fund will be used for the erection of monuments in memory of the late Secretary of the Interior in all of the national parks which were under his jurisdiction and in the development of which he took the greatest interest. Pending that however, the interest in the fund will be paid to his widow during her life.

HOOVER STARTS PLAN.

The idea of creating the Franklin K. Lane memorial fund is said to have originated with Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover at the time the memorial services for the former Secretary of the Interior were held in this city. Calling together his closest and most intimate friends, Mr. Hoover presented the project and the collection of the fund was immediately started. Adolph C. Miller, a California businessman, and member of the Federal Reserve Board, who had served as the assistant to the Secretary of the Interior during the first two years of Mr. Hoover's incumbency, is in charge of the funds.

PROVIDE LASTING MEMORIALS.

While it is provided that Mrs. Lane shall have the interest on the memorial fund, it is also stipulated that the trustees of the fund may pay out the interest on the principal in the event of certain contingencies. The ultimate result of the fund, however, will be to create a permanent memorial which will carry forward the inspiration he gave to the American people in his famous apostrophe speech on the American flag. His friends, the creators of the fund, believe that the meaning of the American flag to every citizen of this country has never been brought home in more beautiful language or more succinctly than in that speech.

Bronzed epaulettes are to be cast and they are to be set on the base of memorial poles which are to be set in every national park.

FILD MEN MIXED IN QUEER CASE.

Since the men were carrying out Tufts' wishes, although he said no part of the money had been traced to the possession of Tufts.

Payments of various attorneys totals over $6,000 were made by Abrams in his deposition. A receipt from David Stoneman for two checks aggregating $5,000 bearing the name of Daniel H. Oakley also was introduced.

Mr. Hurlburt explained to the court that "Stoneman was a party to the conspiracy."

"He was go-between," Hurlburt said, "and received money from Abram and another to Hiram Abrams and another to Hiram Abrams, et al. The signers include Frederick E. Lord of Providence, Thomas G. Tierney of Worcester, Terence Scars of Boston and James McDonald of Boston.

In a statement read tonight Attorney Stoneman denied the allegations of the Atty.-Gen. Hurlburt that he had acted as a "go-between."

"If the papers have quoted Mr. Hurlburt correctly," Mr. Stoneman said, "his statement is not only untrue, but unjust to me. I was retained as counsel by Hiram Abrams and others to assist in the direction of the case. Acting in that capacity alone, I did what I could to adjust the matter out of court and without publicity."

NOTED EDUCATOR DIES.

seats and salvage costs cost the treasury a great deal of money if not efficiently done, in the end it has nothing to do with the successful operation of the fleet. All in all, it is the success or failure of operations that will furnish the final answer.

GOOD CO-OPERATION.

The Ship Owners' Association of America and the Shippers' Association of America have shown a most magnificent spirit of co-operation with the new Shipping Board, and have by evidence proved to the board that they want to enter into a co-operative relationship with it in the building up of the American Merchant Marine. The ones who know best how to operate ships are the owners and operators, and they were consulted in the making of the agreement that ship operations shall be under one man. But it seemed otherwise to the board, because the operations of the fleet under its control were undertaken by other men, that the mere experience of the past could not be a guide to the future. The shippers' privateers took down today the 1,313 ships in their fleet. Leaving out the wooden boats, we have 1,446 ships. It is no secret that our business is organized and not in such a ruinous condition, and one can possibly solve the problems presented, both because of lack of time and because they present such diversified problems, so one mind could grapple with them.

"We asked the shipping world to recommend the best talent to us for the positions determined upon, told them we would take one each recommended by them, though we did not promise to take the first, second or third that they recommended. We did not only trust the men, but if they utterly failed to present to us men whom we could accept. We met with the men recommended by them, every one of whom came before us, and after we showed our situation to this man, you could not have gotten that man to come if he was to be the only man."

These men selected are Mr. J. Burton Snell, Mr. William J. Love, both of New York, and Mr. A. J. Frey of Los Angeles who is president of the Pacific Coast Coffee Mill Company when it had its larger fleet and at that time was the most successfully operated American company.

"This fleet will be divided among these three vice-presidents and the policies in connection with the operating, chartering and disposal of the fleet will be left to them. Each vice-president will have a board of his own, and these have the chance of the board and the president that there will be no political interference of any nature. The president has urged upon them the absolute necessity of operating these boats on the basis of absolutely free hand in the operation of the boats after a policy has been established, and that has been done.

SWING CLUBS FOR TOURNEYS

Boys, Sixteen and Under Ready for Golf Play

Annual Junior Champion is on for July 21.

Ed B. Tufts Wins Delightful and is Well Pleased.

DEL MONTE July 11.—The boys and under age fifteen golf clubs in preparation for the third annual State championship, the qualifying round will be held on July 21, with match-play to follow on the 22d. The new champion is to be "Tiger" O'Conor, 17, of San Francisco, who has passed the limit and will not participate.

Southern California is to make a clean sweep of the titles of the tournaments and much talk of Southern California's desire to enter the event. Robert T. Tuller, 17, who recently won the amateur title on the mountains in Los Angeles, is the only mighty fine player and I much support from the mountains entered. There is a chance that other players from the coming to Del Monte.

Ashton Stanley, who was the junior event in 1919, seems to expect that the competition expected that a number of Northern California will participate.

Ed B. Tufts, 16, of Los Angeles, Southern California, who was a visitor at Del Monte the past week, and was very interested in the tournament, has been invited by Mr. and Mrs. Monte and Pebble Beach. Tufts predicts that players will be greatly surprised and delighted with the results.

The summer tournament made the links one of the most popular places to be found any place for the State championship.

September 1st. In connection with the State championship, see links at Pebble Beach.

The summer tournament on Monte on August 12 to 14 will be the time a number of the South players will be on hand to up for the State championship.

SAYS WEALTHY SPOUSE CRUEL.

Wife of Realty Man Charges Inhuman Conduct.

William F. Young is Sued for Separate Maintenance.

Rough Language and Rougher Acts Attributed to Him.

William F. Young, millionaire real estate and oil man, and owner of the Young Apartments and other valuable Los Angeles property, is made defendant in a separate maintenance action filed in the Superior Court yesterday by Mrs. Alma M. Young.

Mrs. Young, through her attorney, Griffith Jones and John J. Cralie, asks in addition to the separation allowance for a restraining order to prevent her husband from disposing of the community property, listed and valued by her in her complaint at $1,100,000, or to require or receive for his custody of their minor child, and for court orders restraining Mr. Young from "hindering, molesting or otherwise annoying the peace and quiet of the plaintiff."

The Youngs were married in Clear Lake, Iowa, Feb. 8, 1896.

According to her complaint, the action for separate maintenance and separation of the property is based upon a "course of cruel and inhuman conduct" extending from the time of their marriage. Specifically, Mrs. Young charges that her husband used language not becoming a gentleman; that he followed up his language, lifting him up with words stronger evidence of "cruel" and "inhuman conduct," especially so on one occasion in 1919, at the Young Apartments, and that he has refused to consent to a separation and has threatened to deny her the use of their home at 88 Woodland Place.

Neither of the Youngs could be reached for a version of the domestic difficulties.

Attorney Jones also refused to comment on the case other than admit the identity of his client and the name of the suit.

Mrs. Young's in her complaint that she and Mr. Young are the owners of the Young Apartments on Grand avenue, valued at $250,000; of 100 acres of land in Kern county, an interest in the Appling Land and Water Company, of large acreages in Mexico and of various oil lands and oil stock interests, valuable properties on Wilshire Boulevard, and of several automobiles.

William Young, 17 years of age, is the minor child mentioned in the complaint.

A feature of the complaint is the prayer to the court to have Mr.

Young restrained from compelling her to leave the Young home.

The wife asks for such relief and restraint as the court may deem necessary, as well as for attorneys' fees.

TWO MAYORS INDORSE BENEFIT FOR HEROES.

Mayor Cryer, Mayor Berkley of Santa Monica, and others officials have given their endorsement to the benefit entertainment to be given next Monday evening at the Ambassador for the disabled ex-service men and women, who are being cared for at St. Catherine Hospital, Santa Monica. There are forty-three men and eight women, whose wounds and other injuries were received during the World War, being cared for at this hospital. The Santa Monica Bay Women's Club is assisting in selling tickets for the event. A new musical comedy, "Woman Hater," will be the principal feature of the entertainment.

THREE ARE BANKRUPT.

The Fresno Dehydrated Products Company filed a petition in bankruptcy in the U. S. District Court, yesterday, giving the debts of the concern as $11,338.92, all unsecured, and the assets as $82,060.97. Of the latter amount $18,330.30 is in the shape of debt due the corporation, and a large amount of real estate owned by George Conner, as trustee.

Henry A. Carter, trading as Carter Auto Transfer Company, and the Highland Park Transfer Company, filed similar petitions yesterday, the debts of each being given as $27,000.00, and the assets as $557. J. B. Hodges, a contractor and builder of Visalia, Tulare county, owes debts amounting to $15,750, and has assets of $17,676, according to a petition filed in the same court.

A CORRECTION.

Through an inadvertence, an account of the Sunday morning concert at Grauman's, published in The Times yesterday, credited Charles Wakefield Cadman as winner of the prize offered by Sid Grauman for the most popular California composer, whereas Theodore Gordan was the winner, receiving four more dollars than Mr. Cadman, the violinist.

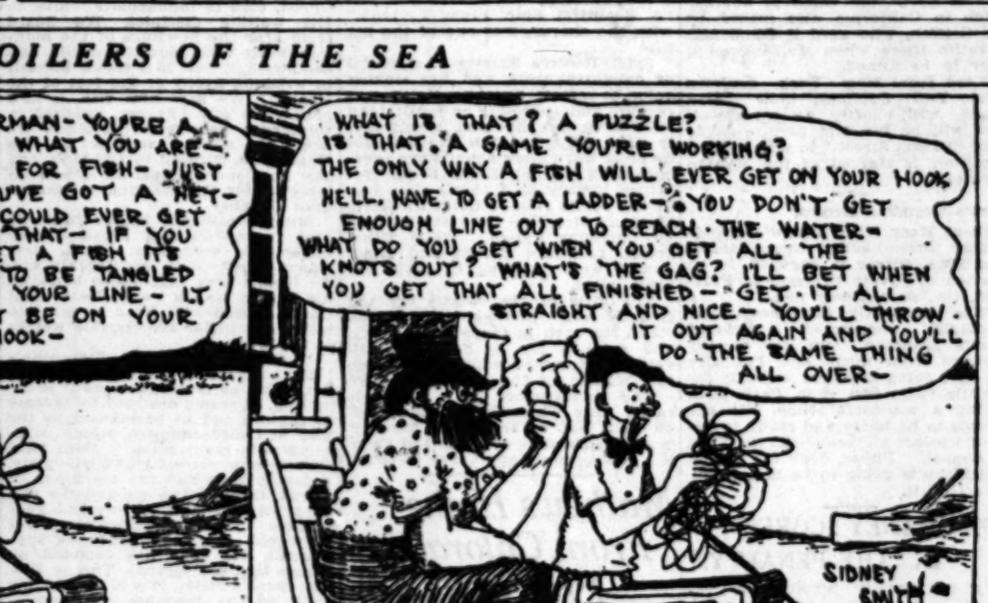

The vote was so close that both Mr. Gordan and Mr. Cadman received silver loving cups, according to the Grauman management.

TRIXIE A HIT.

MILLE FRIGANZA COPS THE NOISE IN NEW ACT.

By Grace Kingsley.

Nobody wants to be called a ray of sunshine these days, so I won't insult Trixie Friganza by calling her that. But nobody, especially now, could object to being called a shot of champagne, so that's what we'll say about her, as long as we are in poetic mood, and have to get the foamy stuff out of our chest.

Mille Friganza in a couple shows at the Orpheum this week, just as usual. In fact, more so. She has the best act she has ever appeared in.

She doesn't depend on former material, except her profession avoidups, but is right in tune with the times in having her monologue one of those clubby it-is-come-hither-lets-giggle-together things that are all the vogue these days.

She wears some stunning clothes, having shaped her wardrobe on herself alone, until she is right down to the rompers. This may be easier than going off to change, and may have been comfortable in the frigid north, but wearing all those duds is good party wear, and she works down toward the equator. She feels right down to the rompers, anyway, and she's just as full of pep and good cheer as ever.

She takes a funny dance, and puts over the cleverest monologue in captivity. She tells about just the funny little things that happen to all of us every day in the year, only she does them in such a manner out of them. There's the lady we all know, for instance, who invited her to see her new house—"I climbed up a million stairs and like I'd bought the stairs that man had." She was black. If I looked that good in black I'd be so glad to wear it. I wouldn't care what the reason was!

Then she takes the people who cop the applause from orchestra to shelf. The chubby lady grabbed off an ovation the minute she stopped dancing, and kept the audience working in laugh apparatus and hands right through.

The rest of the bill is nothing much to write home about. Mae Melville has a male partner to pick on, this time George Rule, and still pockets the laughs with her funny cracks at him.

Homer Romains starts the proceedings with some neat gymnastic stunts, and the girls, including Rose Clark, show that the 1921 girl will treat her husband rough, but even then can't get a laugh from the women. "Summertime," a play with Lewis Nixon and others, is miles better than the musical Follies and Adela Ayres has a sidewalk act in which they kick each other to fair returns. Remaining over are Eddie Borden and his girl show, and Bardley and Ardine in their smart, little dancing set.

D. W. GRIFFITH BUYS

RANCH AT BIG BEAR.

D. W. Griffith, the producer, has acquired a ranch of ninety acres, known as Camp Eureka, near Big Bear, according to an announcement made yesterday in San Bernardino by Mrs. Margaret Betterly, who sold the property.

What purpose lies behind the acquisition is unknown. It is improbable that the master producer will establish a studio there, the location or even return to Los Angeles, but the conjecture is that across with the announcement was that the Big Bear area will be acquired for speculation or investment purposes, but that it could not be said that it might be utilized for certain west ern and mountainous episodes of his various productions.

The consideration for which the property was purchased is $10,000.

This is about the value of another ranch in California also owned by Mr. Griffith, who used it frequently to rent there when working on a story to be filmed.

"Word from New York" declares that the picture will shortly be completed.

This will be his first picture made with the chorus starred at the Mission

Theater.

Mary's Grandma Denies.

From Mary Miles Minter's grandmother, Mrs. Shelby, comes denial that Miss Minter is engaged to be married to Orville Eringer of Port land. Or, on anybody else.

She recently declared these little schizoid romances.

Mary's grandma, "but she quickly recovers from them, and I'm sure she isn't going to marry anybody for a while yet. She is in Paris now, writing books to be home and ready to begin a Realart picture about the 22nd of August. Please deny the report that Mary is going to be married."

So I do it.

LON CHANEY SCORES

IN "THE PENALTY."

I'm not usually strong for revivals, not being one of those human beings who consider that "thing" is sure to be good because it's old, like a movie which has come into picture revivals, which are usually bad things since the poor actors don't get a chance to buy themselves new clothes and provide themselves with better lighting. But, really, a production of the past is so good that it serves pretty well to take the conceit out of us, and prove to us that many good things were done in the past.

Such a picture is "The Penalty," which still seen this week at Miller's after a couple of years, remains a classic among pictures, while Lon Chaney's acting in it as Blizard hasn't been beaten since even by himself.

The story is from Gouverneur Morris's tale of the same name, concerns the beast of a fellow, a legless man, but strong, magnetic, and a ruler of men, who holds a goodly part of San Francisco under his thumb as the police power of the slums. He has been embittered through a needless operation performed on him in childhood through which he lost his limbs and became an amputee. But he has another side to his nature. He is a rare musician and no more vividly striking bit of soul visualizing has ever been done than Chaney does in this picture. As he sits playing, he talks to the girl playing for him of his dreams of conquest, when the whole city will be in his power. It was the dream of a madman; and afterward, through the Elks are to be tickled in the

And, as far as I'm concerned, the picture is entitled "One A Minute," or, at events he gives us their equivalent in Knight's 99, a patent nostrum in which the unanalyzable ingredient is water.

WORLDS OF

the grinding season in the island, it has become apparent that there are more than 2,000 tons of sugar here available for shipment at a time when prices are lower than any time during a five-year period, and meaning a loss on every pound sold.

It is generally estimated that an average cost of $6 per hundred pounds for producing this year's sugar crop—transportation and all—will mean a loss under that will mean a loss to most of the producers in the island. The crop is the most expensive ever harvested in the island, and the low prices which have prevailed have been particularly hard on the actual cane growers.

J. Ruiz Soler, secretary of the Sugar Producers' Association, who has recently been in the states and who sailed again on Wednesday, said that he did not know what the future market was going to be, but that he was opposed to any plan for holding sugar up in the hope of a better market later on.

There is still some

MRS. KAUFFMAN SEEKS
CRIME CASE EVIDENCE.(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SPRINGFIELD (Mo.) July 11.—Mrs. Angela Kauffman of Los Angeles, widow of a man who was killed in New York last year, has filed a complaint with the police against the holder of a large amount of sugar in Los Angeles, charging that he had been bringing about half of all prices during the past few weeks.

Friends are other people interested in the case. They agree with Mr. Kauffman that he is apparently a large amount of sugar in Los Angeles, and that he is a small factor in affecting the market price.

They may be able to affect the market price by getting the sugar for shipment.

WASHINGTON NEWS IN BRIEF.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The administration was confident today that Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and China will accept the President's invitation for a conference in Washington on limitation of armaments and problems of the Pacific and Far East. It was made positive that the initiative for the conference was taken by President Harding, despite reports that the move which may lead to a convention to guarantee against future war was suggested by Great Britain.

The dye embargo controversy was aired during the debate in the House on the tariff bill. Representative Martin of Louisiana, Democrat, spoke for the measure.

President Harding indicated his opposition to a duty on crude petroleum prior to the action of the House Ways and Means Committee approving such a duty, according to letters from him to Chairman Fordney of the committee, which became public.

Tomorrow the President will address Congress on the legislative program and necessity for deferring the soldiers' bonus bill. Senator Penrose, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, proposed that both houses of Congress recess as soon as the House passes the tariff bill, until about September 1, the Ways and Means Committee of the House and the Finance Committee of the Senate to work on tax and tariff legislation during the recess.

A. D. Lasker, chairman of the Shipping Board, announced the appointment of three vice-presidents in charge of operations, the combined salaries of whom will be $95,000 a year.

The Sweet soldiers' relief bill encountered fresh obstacles before the Senate Finance subcommittee today and may not be reported to the full committee until it has been amended to provide for a veterans' relief bureau as a separate government organization with a head responsible directly to the President.

Friends of the late Franklin K. Lane, former Secretary of the Interior, led by Herbert Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, have raised a fund of $100,000 to be devoted partly to the welfare of Mrs. Lane and partly to the erection of monuments to his memory in the national parks.

EDISON PAYS TRIBUTE TO FAMOUS ENGINEER.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE)

NEW YORK, July 11.—Thomas A. Edison today paid high tribute to the work of Prof. Francis Barlow Crocker, world famous electrical engineer who died Saturday night. The inventor said the entire world owed Prof. Crocker a debt of gratitude. Prof. Crocker's most important contribution to the electrical industry was the commercial motor. During the war he made many discoveries bearing on the curvature of airplane wings. With Peter Cooper Hewitt, he invented the first motor in this country, which was able to fit. He was a former president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Several witnesses proposed legislation to permit use of government funds to finance farm exports.

Others, a station for the national board, who commutes a number of employees at the California Cotton Mills are dependent upon a decision of the Attorney General, according to the San Francisco Daily News.

Deputy State Commissioner of Corporations, there is a conflict of opinion whether extradition is to be asked for a man not a fugitive from justice, or that we find that we can commute Rice and let him go. We will go ahead at once and have him brought to Oakland to stand trial.

Rice is charged with selling stock in California without a license.

FALL TO INVESTIGATE BOULDER DAM PROJECT

PROTESTS BY COACHELLA AND IMPERIAL VALLEYS WILD CAUSE DELAY.

EMPHASIZE NEED OF LEGISLATION.

Federal Power Commission Operation, Example.

Applications Filed Now Total Large Amount.

Projects Contemplated Take in Wide Range.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The first year's operation of the Federal Power Commission under the Water Power Act of June 16, 1920, has given a clear indication of the need for the legislation and the extent to which power development has been delayed by lack of satisfactory federal laws. Up to June 30, 1921, there had been 23 applications aggregating 14,975,000 horsepower and affecting thirty-three States, the District of Columbia and Alaska.

BEAT ALL RECORDS.

This amount is 76 per cent greater than the entire water-power development of the United States today. It is 60 per cent greater than the combined water-power resources of Norway and Sweden, and considerably in excess of the combined resources of France and Italy. It is five times greater than the aggregate of all applications filed with the Federal government in the preceding fifteen years. The projects will vary in size from less than 100 horsepower up to the three million-horsepower scheme of the Southern California Edison Company on Colorado River.

The first license was issued on March 1 to the Niagara Falls Power Company. Between that date and July 1 final action has been taken on forty-four applications, thirteen of which permits have been issued, involving 1,075,000 horsepower, and fifteen licenses involving 750,000 primary horsepower and 160,000 secondary horsepower, or a total of 1,215,000 horsepower, making an aggregate of twenty-eight projects, involving 2,292,000 horsepower, or as much as was issued by all of the executive departments during the ten years preceding the passage of the Federal Water-Power Act.

APPLICATIONS PENDING.

There also was pending on June 30 for final action at the next meeting of the commission sixteen applications involving 190,000 horsepower.

Over 60 per cent of the applications filed with the commission have been accompanied by sufficient information to warrant more than preliminary action. Seventy-five per cent of them have been advanced to local supervisory as required by the act and an equal number have been submitted to the field for examination, hearing and responsibility of the several departments.

THREE BROKERS SHARE ALIKE IN COMMISSIONS.

(BY A. F. NIGHT WIRE.) SACRAMENTO, July 11.—Judgment of the Superior Court of Tuolumne in a suit which was the outcome of a dispute between J. Gores, J. E. West and J. W. Fewell, three Visalia brokers, arising over the division of commissions on sales of land owned by J. F. Gibson, A. W. Quinn and F. C. Snell, valued at $65,000 was affirmed here today by the Third District Court of Appeals.

It was held by the court that the three men had contributed to the sale and should share equally in the commissions.

FINANCIAL AND TRADE REVIEW

The Coast association for the coming year. F. A. Stearns, advertising manager of the Guaranty Trust Savings Bank was chosen head of the financial department for the Pacific Coast and Mr. Loomis as chairman of the Better Business Bureau Departmental.

San Diego was selected as the next convention city. Mr. Rollin C. Ayres of San Francisco was elected president of the association.

It is expected that there will be a large attendance at the convention next year of Southern California business men and bankers, as the activities of the All-Year Fair are now conducting a scope to be of interest to others outside of purely advertising work.

EGGS ADVANCE.

Fresh eggs advanced 1 cent per dozen yesterday, case count 2 cents and pullets 1 cent. This is the first advance in egg price on eggs 35, 33 and 18 cents respectively for fresh extra, case count and pullets. Butter remained stationary at 43 cents. This is the lowest to retailers and averages 3 cents below the average market price.

ELKS BRILLIANT HARBOR FUTURE

 San Pacific Chief Pledges

 El Paso Praises Southland as Prosperity Leader.

Declaring relentless war on un-American doctrines and un-American ideas, Grand Exalted Ruler William M. Abbot of San Francisco last night made a ringing announcement of the Elks' firm Americanism when he responded to the official welcome extended the thousands of antlered visitors at the public session of the Grand Lodge in Philharmonic Auditorium.

The first session of the reunion started off with a bang with an elaborate program of speeches and entertainment. Through-out the program there stood out the big word "Welcome."

Gov. Stephens said it. Mayor George E. Cryer echoed it, and Norman A. Ballie, Exalted Ruler of Los Angeles Lodge No. 99, emphasized it. The speeches were filled with the hospitable warmth of California's Southland, and the thousands of visiting Elks who crowded every nook and cranny of the big auditorium overflowed onto the stage, realized, if they had not realized before, that of all the kinds and types of Elks there were indeed, not to mention the "Brother Bill" and his folks.

"It is the Great Heart Order of America," he continued, "because I believe it is fitted and prompted in all its endeavors for good by real heart sentiment. Far and above all other things, the Elks hold the promptings of the heart, and they have endeavored to do their count-less ways and different forms."

"The heart that loves his fellow-men and strives to relieve their suffering and bring the great warmth of human sympathy to them in their lives. The heart that responds to the orphan's plea and answers the call of the sick. The heart that holds in loving reverence the memory of those who have gone before him, and with unfailing remembrance goes out to all wandering brothers at the sacred hour of eleven. The heart that feels the depth of mother love, and finds unmeasured joy in the secret observance of the wife's devotion, have been inspired and prompted by real heart sentiment. He pointed out that the order teaches its members the responsibilities of citizenship, the necessity of unselfishness, and on un-American ideas and the promotion of everything that stands for a better country."

The Grand Exalted Ruler declared that the "Great Heart of Elksdom" could become as steel; cold, intolerant and fearless if the security of the country or its institutions be threatened either by an enemy from without, or by insidious propaganda from within.

"The year just closed demonstrated more than the tongue can tell or pen can write the progress we have made in our work and the fine co-operation of our various Elks clubs and lodges in the promotion of our cause. We hope, and are increasing the facilities for our members to help in any way that we can in our advancement, which is not with to put myself in a position of promising more than we can possibly do for the welfare of this railroad and that for many years it has known but steady growth. We are and will continue to increase the breadth and height of influence and power for good which the order wields than I had even thought were possible. It has demonstrated that"

By ALMA WHITAKER.

Being an Elk's lady at one of these national conventions is apt to be an also-ran proposition. There is no My Lady Paramount business about it. She came along and some thoughtful people are going to see that she doesn't die of ennui, but at the very best she is merely a consort, a welcome appendage, a charming extra. It is essentially a masculine affair in which nice wives are completely reminded of the obvious superiority of their spouses.

Oh, yes, there is a ladies reception committee to see that the wives and daughters are kept preoccupied and interested while the lords are immersed in weighty and portentous business, but the thing gets a bit beyond them. So it is eminently advantageous to be the wife of a Paul Revere-like Ruler or something magnificently like that.

These exalted consorts in particular are the ones for whom Mrs. Ralph Hagan and Mrs. Michael F. Shannon have constituted themselves local hostesses, the large, living being at conventions in other cities, and knowing what can happen to a lone wife when hubby is an Elk.

ENTERTAIN WOMEN.

So on Saturday evening last the husbands were persuaded to play the gallant host at the San Gabriel Country Club for a dance, a performance, rope in some dancing men, and provide a gay interlude for about twenty-five of the few thousand Elks ladies in town. And on Sunday, Gran Exalted Ruler Abbott, having reluctantly left Mr. Abbott behind, recuperating from an illness, appointed Mrs. Hagan and Mrs. Shannon as hostesses on a trip to Carolina.

On both of these occasions the included both Mrs. Joseph T. Fanning of New York; Mrs. W. J. O'Brien of Baltimore; Mrs. Frank Keenan of Philadelphia; Mrs. W. W. Mount of Portland, Mrs. (Elks' Grand Exalted Ruler's lady-to-be) Mrs. Lloyd R. Maxwell of Marshalltown, Iowa, and Mrs. Ed Rightor of New Orleans.

The People and Their Daily Troubles

DOROTHY DIX TALKS

Loneliness.

BY DOROTHY DIX.

Isn't it queer how poor company most of us are for ourselves?

The most common complaint in the world is loneliness. The thing that most people find hardest to endure is their own society. The thing that most men and women dread more than anything else is being by themselves.

This is the stranger, because none of us are so lacking in vanity as to regard ourselves as pests and bores in society. On the contrary we believe ourselves to be entertaining and amusing, and that our fellow-creatures listen with bated breath to our views, and have their funny bones tickled by our stories.

Why, then, should we not be able to divert ourselvess thinking about the socializing thoughts with which we believe they are entering other people? If we can interest others, why do we fail to interest ourselves? Nobody knows. The fact merely remains that most of us have our company better than the crowd because she couldn't bear to be herself.

The Chief of Police of New York once told me that loneliness sent more girls to the bad than all other causes combined. He said that the girl from the country, village, would come to the city and get work in a store or factory. She would live in a little hall bedroom and eat her meals alone. She would have no one to talk to or care about with her in a little while the loneliness would get her. She couldn't stand being her only company. Then she would fall an easy prey to the evil men and women who were waiting out for just such victims as she.

It was not that the girl had any natural inclination toward the downward road. On the contrary, she would have preferred the straight and narrow path, but the broad way was the gay road with leapers who are young enough to be their grandsons. That's when a woman will rob the cradle or the grave to get anybody to bear the company.

There is no use in telling such women that only marriage with a man whom she loves, a man who belongs to her own social status and who has similar tastes and aspirations, can better her lot. There is no use in telling them that a woman who has a nice property of her own, or a good job and the liberty to do as she pleases; who has her own home and travel, has nothing to gain by being lonely. Last she has the luck to catch a halo—angel—which seldom happens to females of mature age who have lost their willowy figures and their complexions.

They will not listen to you. They will not heed your warning. For the dread of dread is upon them. The horror of having to endure their own society when they are old, is thicker than the air they are breathing. They are willing to give up a soft job in an office to slave over a cooking stove, or to put up with the growls, and whines and crocodiles of a grumpy man who never wants enough to administer a knock, or to furnish automobiles for a young rounder in which to take fenders and chorus girls joy riding.

It is this dread of being alone that makes old people so often a burden on the young. They know they should live in their own house, and that they are a menace to the hapless motherless children upon whom they cast their eyes. They run the risk of breaking up their son's and daughter's homes by inflicting themselves upon them, rather than bear themselves company.

And it is the men and women who can never be alone for a moment that put the hardest strain on friendship. The most kind, good, and worthy, but the weaker their welcome out by always being under foot.

Sadly, the most terrible affliction that can happen to anyone is to have to furnish society for themselves. We speak of a lonely old age with pity. We keep gods of tears as we link the lonely woman who has lived in a house by himself or herself.

Yet no company should be as entertaining to an old person as his or her thoughts. They have seen so much, they have known so much, the whole drama of life passes before them as they sit alone looking back at their youth.

And what better company can any intelligent man or woman want than the books their shelves, or the guests they can call to them? Why must they have somebody chitter-chatter in their ears all the time to make them happy? Why can they not enjoy long periods of silence in which they have a chance to commune with their souls, and to really get acquainted with themselves?

Perhaps the reason we do not like our own society better is because we have never had a chance to know ourselves. There is no time to learn to love to read, and to store our minds with the thoughts and memories that will keep us from boring ourselves. So we need never be afraid of loneliness.

That is when a woman marries the old suitor whom she doesn't love, and whom she has refused a hundred times. She marries a widower with seven small children and a shoestring income.

That is when a lady college professor marries a man who has never read anything but the price and cost of his life. That's when the rich old maid marries spendthrift

Editor of The Times: God endows the soul with singing voice and our State and Federal laws grant him the right to sing. If he chooses the night time as well as daylight in which to exercise this vocal talent, he isn't doing any harm to you or me. He doesn't even know that we exist, nor is he breaking any law.

It is the "still small voice" within, the wonderful thrill and exaltation of participation in the spiritual church that make the task less irksome for the little mate, who sits long hours in tedious silence upon the precious eggs, that is bubbling forth in a frenzied intoxication of melodious voices from the throat.

We can learn many useful lessons from even the smallest of God's creatures, was the oft-expressed conviction of the late naturalist John Burroughs.

Wants to Think.

LOS ANGELES, July 1.—To the Editor of The Times: In the fact of the fact that most of those who have sought healing through the man, Isaiah Cudney, seem to be cases over which physicians have been unable to diagnose, I would advise the public to seek him out for the Thanksgiving to God that there is a healing power superior to the physicians which has often healed and even now does heal and bless mankind.

Perhaps the best difference noted in the mockingbird's song and while counting, you will forget your annoyance and float off into dreamland. He is an insatiable bird, subsisting on insects, beetles, caterpillars and earth worms.

On the day of the trial he repudiated his confession, and then reiterated it, with additional details, to the court. He said he was a lawyer of Salt Lake City, was appointed to defend him. Mr. King investigated the youth's story that he was an heir to the Ringling estate, and found it to be false.

Since his incarceration in the penitentiary at Price, Ringling has been writing letters to the newspapers, charging conspiracy—and making threats.

There are many more interesting details of the story of the bubble romance, but the office O. Henry is the best of the conversation story, so that will have to do.

Gov. Stephen has approved a budget approximating $91,000,000 following the recent session of the Legislature. This is $20,000,000 more than the appropriations two years ago. Be it known of all men in Chicago a celluloid collar can never take the place of a bath and a shave.CIVIL PROGRESS.
The post office receipts in Los Angeles in June showed a greater percentage of gain than in any other large city of America. In this they were only exceeded by New York. The receipts were $380,000, while was $30,000 more than for the previous June. There are still a lot of visitors here who are sending postal cards back to the old Jews. The postal revenue is Los Angeles this year are likely to exceed $400,000. That would pay off on a lot of interests.MUNICIPAL PROTECTION.
The city of Calgary has taken out great insurance on all the municipal offices under a blanket policy for $1,500,000. This is for life, health and accident humanity and may be paid to take the place of a pension fund. By this means a number are covered who would ordinarily be unable to obtain insurance because of their age or physical condition. It fills them with the optimism of the paternal idea. The city is going to buy life insurance for its employees, why not for all of its citizens? Who would not insure himself instead of buying it elsewhere? Why not let the city do all the business and support my citizens? Why not?THE NEW PEACE CONFERENCE.
President Harding's formal invitation to the governments of our late allies to send representatives to Washington to attend an international conference to discuss a "limitation of armaments" marks the changed trend of world thought since the great war was fought. International conferences have been held in the past for the purpose of forming military alliances, of pooling the fighting strength of certain national groups; but this is the first time in history that a group of powerful governments have contemplated a voluntary limitation of armaments.

Now different are world conditions, psychological rather than material, since the secret conference was held fifteen years ago for the purpose of formulating the Anglo-Japanese Alliance! The world has made real progress since the Bismarckian days, which led to the conclusion of the Triple Alliance. Both those alliances were distinctly militaristic. They contemplated the increase of armaments, the formation of groups powerful enough to dictate international relations. The conferees were military men; and each constituted in a way a menace to the peace of the world.

The Triple Alliance is dead, strangled in the blood of the people who constituted it. The term of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance has expired and far-seeing statesmen of the British Empire are well aware that its renewal under the old terms would be an anachronism. They recognize that the new interests of the British Empire are industrial and not militaristic. "We are a peaceful empire, our very nature is such that peace is necessary for us," said Gen. Smuts at the London conference.

British statesmen know that the cause of justice is now stronger in the world than the military spirit, that dominion is no longer to be maintained by the sword. Lloyd George accented this idea when he proposed to President Harding the calling of an international conference to consider the limitation of armaments.

But The Times is more concerned with the potentialities of such a conference than with the immediate question of limited armaments. If force is no longer to be the dominant feature of international relations, machinery must be created for the peaceful solution of world questions, of international disputes. It will not be enough to submit the Marquis of Queensberry rules for the more brutal standards of the London prize ring. Reduction of armaments is a palliative for high taxes, but it is not a remedy for the malignant disease that so lately threatened our peaceful civilization.

The Paris Conference held in Paris in 1919 brought up an issue of the World War; but it did not succeed in creating an international tribunal for the JUST SETTLEMENT of world problems. It established peace; but peace without justice is only an interim between wars. The Council of the League of Nations is a council of diplomats, one in which the personal interests of the nations in question would be very likely to interfere with just solutions. Wars are only possible when one of the two parties to an international dispute believes itself to be wronged. Neither nation may be tactfully the aggressor. The fault lies in the conflict of national interests. When the alleged rights of two or more peoples come into conflict force was the only tribunal to which the dispute could be appealed; and the right that prevailed was that of the strongest.

It is the instant; the indomitable desire of the free peoples of the world for a peace of justice that has moved the President to call the proposed conference. All nations are weary of fighting, of the constant appeals to force. Education has done its work. Reason is dominating the brute. War has lost its glamour. Using weapons for argument is repugnant to the instincts of humanity. The governments of the world are faced by a revolt of all peoples against the iniquities of settling disputes by force. Patriotism has come to resent the fact that his job must be preserved though the country goes bankrupt.

Gen. Dawes, director of the budget, is now the most unpopular man in Washington in the national service. He has incurred the enmity of the federated government employees by reason of his strictures on the overpopulation of government departments and they have organized a far-reaching propaganda for the purpose of discrediting him in the eyes of the people and nullifying his efforts. If Gen. Dawes wins, 250,000 Federal employees will lose their jobs; and a political fight for his meal ticket rises earlier than virtue and retires later than vice.

President Harding has promised to Gen. Dawes practically a free hand in investigating the different government departments and making recommendations for such retrenchments as will be possible without seriously injuring the public service. There are more than 400 minor departments to be investigated; and the head of each of these is insisting that his force cannot be reduced, that the retrenchment must be made somewhere else. Recently the President called the 400 department heads to a conference at which he presided. Gen. Dawes there outlined the general plan for efficiency and economy. Those who listened to him are now raising their voices high in blame against one who "understands nothing of the national service and would disrupt all departments in order to win popular applause."

Since that conference a number of Congressmen have found occasion to cast suspicion on the administration program for retrenchment. They assert that the director of the budget is not beginning in the right place, that he is going to get the business of the government into a muddle that will require more millions to straighten out than his reductions of office forces will have saved. It is just possible that after moderation were not absent in all these discussions. Most of the members of Congress have political supporters in the Federal service; and it appears that Gen. Dawes threatens to turn many of these out into an unfriendly world to make their living without public assistance.

Unless public opinion throughout the country lines up solidly behind the President and the director of the budget in their efficiency and economy campaign the office-holding army will win. The fight that Gen. Dawes is making is the fight of the taxpayer. Of the man who earns the money, the consumer who pays the tax in addition to the actual value of the thing he buys. The Federal government at the present time is the greatest spender of money the new world has ever produced; and it is the monopoly of the toilers of the citizens who make government possible.

No individual profiteer has gone further in exploiting the people than the Federal administration in exploiting the taxpayers of the country. This is the profiteer whom Gen. Dawes is tracking to his lair. But he will not be subdued without a struggle. The profiteers are the greatest propagandists in the country. They will attack the director of the budget and his retrenchment from every conceivable point of vantage. Thoroughly unscrupulous, they will accuse him of nameless crimes and misdemeanors; and they will bring to bear all the political pressure that it is possible for demagogues to exert.

The people of the country do not waver in their faith in the President and his administration, however, all these columnists will go for naught. The average American has learned much about propaganda methods in the last four or five years. In that time the World War was a great educator. When you read an attack on the director of the budget just recall the sporting maxim that "struck bird always fatters." California has something at stake in Gen.

FORTY-SEVEN SEEKS JOB.

Before the great upheaval in my life which shook me loose from my secure foundation I found it relaxing and entertaining to stroll into the City Park and touch shoulders only I fear, with the types that haunted its beaches—ignorance of the world made such study interesting. But be the motive from a limited analytical, philosophical or whatever viewpoint, we must admit that the net results are colored from and through our mental attitude. Whether one is safely moored or forced to breast the turbulence of life's tempestuous waves in a frail bark affects differently the heartbeats or the mortal pulse.

July, 1921, finds me in intimate footing with my types. I know now—and long. I have touched life and her response is no curse. I have had a safe life and she calls my bluff.

The last throw of the dice finds me the loser. I am a drug on the market, and with these credentials I am entitled to a reserved seat on the board of directors. I once a pleasant pastime I now find boreish. Grappling in competition with jobbers educates one liberally, and I confess that too much familiarity had bred a desire for avoidance. Separating the human drolights from the mere idlers, the world has from the blase—no longer fascinating.

A glance fixes their status. Pershing Square invites my curiosity so long.

Harrowed and troubled in endeavor to determine my place I become fearful lest I may for all time be, depress me, and I strain for an environment more conducive to an unbiased verdict—I, a failure? Then why?

The elevation of Normal Hill Center, its trees and flowers, its grass on which we may contact our whole length, and removed from the immediate touch of striving humanity, provides a measure of the consoling setting. There is a place which costs the fever of despair, squeezes the shoulders and renewa hope. Just a block or two away squirms and writhes and bites the thing which sets its fangs in me because I could not cope with it. Youth has passport through every gate, but "47" must needs possess those two golden keys which I had lost and left them the facility to fashion others. A man's mind would I search with all his resources for an environment more conducive to casting pearls!

In all the avenues of life the man who will not practice the square deal is the man who stands against himself. He defies the danger, fate, and plagues straight at destruction.

There are many doors to be passed before one can enter the temple of success, and every man who enters has to forge his own key. But the key that unlocks the first door is forged in each man's heart, in his words, in his works, in his dealings with his fellowmen. That key is THE SQUARE DEAL.

The square deal principle of fruitful business, professional, domestic and every other activity, the children, love and open-airness is THE SQUARE DEAL.

Every man of any account is a life member of "THE SQUARE CENTER."

TWO MINUTES OF OPTIMISM.

BY HERMAN J. STITCH.

"The Square Circle."

"The square circle" is a world-wide fraternity whose members usually meet about a round table—and who are all on the square.

Each member who takes out a square-deal insurance policy—the only policy in the world whose premiums are certain to be returned with interest compounded—or to breast the turbulence of life's tempestuous waves in a frail bark affects differently the heartbeats or the mortal pulse.

Every premium is the way of a square word or work is reward many times over in the identical coin.

The man who has taken out his square-deal insurance policy just now and such and such and says his little life away.

Because he will not pay his square-deal premiums now he will pay a pitiful piper later.

All accomplishments, all leadership, all that is worth while and worthy is rock-ribbed to and based upon the policy or the square deal—square deal to your friend and associate, to your wife or your husband, to your employer, to your employer, to everybody and everything you are thrown in contact with.

The sermon that has been reiterated since the birth of the earth, the sermon of which the world never grows heedless or needless, the sermon that is practicable for the home, for the street, for the office, for social intercourse and commercial intercourse, is this: THE SQUARE DEAL.

The square deal principle of fruitful business, professional, domestic and every other activity, the children, love and open-airness is THE SQUARE DEAL.

Every man of any account is a life member of "THE SQUARE CENTER."

A lot of the human race are not yet out of the nest, the nest of the square deal, the nest of the square deal, the nest of the square deal.

If the last work upon the squares for which they expect to have to do there might be some difficulty.

TRADE TEACHING PROGRAM TOLD

Export Outlines Plans for Southwest Development.

Says Course of Study Must Train for Business.

Dr. Sniggett Gives Ideas of Future Commerce.

A comprehensive program for business education was outlined by Dr. Glen Levin Sniggett yesterday, speaking at the opening session of a conference to make plans for the development of Southern California, Arizona and Nevada, with Los Angeles as the meeting center. The conference is being held at the Civic Center, University of Southern California, and will continue today. Commercial teachers and business men from many parts of the nation are attending.

Dr. Sniggett is of the United States Bureau of Education attached for the summer to the university, to bring the bureau's courses in foreign trade. His plan for business education is as follows:

"We should train for business and administration for commerce, by a course of study for an entire year, the sequences that will interest us and relate to the proper time the technique-giving subjects at all times subsidiary to those major subjects

"ISAIAH" MAY GO HOME.

"Brother Isaiah" Cudney, so-called "Miracle Man," is disappointed as a result of the difficulties he has met in securing a city park at which to hold his "healing" meetings, and unless citizens offer private grounds and his meetings, the healer may move to Los Angeles and return to New Orleans, his present healer's sponsor, Mrs. E. R. Parker, and her attorney, Lin W. Price, again yesterday before the City Council, and received a rather cool reception, being referred to a playground commission, a municipality which they had not visited up to that time.

Attorney Price said the Normal Hill Center grounds, which had been recommended by the Park Board, were not adaptable to the needs of the meetings, as it had expressed a preference for Exposition Park. The Park Board has already

RULES OF STUDY.

"These sequences are: Modern languages, including English; mathematics; the sciences; history and geography. These foundations should largely be furnished, however, with a new content and use that is the commercial giant. Every effort to furnish the culture of our present-day economic era in which men and women, increasingly by groups, produce and distribute things that satisfy human needs, and render economic service."

SMUGGLERS ARE LOST IN DESERT.

Abandon Car and Boose in Hail of Bullets and Flee in Darkness.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CALENICO, July 11.—Two men whose identity is unknown to the immigration officers stationed at San Felipe Wash are believed to be lost in the desert after a thrilling chase just before daybreak yesterday morning, which resulted in the seizure of forty-five gallons of contraband whisky and a seven-passenger touring car.

Immigration Officer Adams stopped the car at the bridge early Sunday and as he was about to approach it, the drivers started firing. The driver gave chase in a smaller machine, but was unable to overtake the big car and began firing at the fugitives. Nine bullets struck the touring machine.

In their mad dash for freedom the liquor smugglers hit a team of mules and their car was thrown from the pavement and stuck in the dry sand.

The fugitives jumped from the machine and raced across the desert in the darkness.

An all-day search which was continned until after dark last night failed to reveal any trace of the men who are believed to be lost in the desert.

Six Buildings Razed by Fire in Bakersfield.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BAKERSFIELD, July 11.—Three fires which razed six buildings in this city early this morning, resulted in the arrest of Dave Kemp, a workman connected with a local garage, and caused a loss of $7000.

Kemp was arrested following a fire at his home at 314 M street, but was later released. Suspicious circumstances surrounded the disappearance of the man from the M street blaze, according to the authorities.

Eight horses were burned to death in three of the three fires which started in East Bakersfield. According to Fire Chief Van Meter, the first started from unknown sources in the old Frisco rooms at 509 Grove street and was burning fast when it was discovered, the blaze and turned in an alarm.

FINISH POSTAL CHECK.

Secretary Surrounds Findings of Seventeen Investigators.

The seventeen postoffice inspector, who have been spending the past month making a survey of conditions in the local postoffice and the eighty-eight substations, completed their work yesterday. They all left for their various posts of duty with the exception of three or four, who will remain some days to check up the final report to the White House authorities.

What is being done in the management of the local postoffice that calls for praise or criticism, will be known only at the national capital where the report will be sent. Absolute secrecy prevails as to such matters as far as local publication is concerned.

PROTEST BUSINESS TAX.

Chairman Musket of the City Council's Finance Committee announced yesterday that he has received a number of protests from druggists and other business men to the effect that they were not consulted in the reduction of the occupational tax was recently lowered 6-2-3 per cent. Mr. Musket is giving close study to the revised schedule, and has told the protestors that he is opposed to discrimination in city legislation against any particular group, and that he will fight for an equalization of the reduction.

The Map You Have Been Wanting

AN up-to-date map of Los Angeles and South Pasadena with a street index and key has been specially prepared for free distribution by the Citizens National Bank. No city map of this quality has ever before been available to the public. Every street name is printed in such type as to be easily discernible and the key arrangement makes it possible to find any address without difficulty. The map shows the routing of all street cars and distinguishes between the red and yellow lines, and further indicates all main automobile roads leading from the city with a list of the cities through which they pass. It is printed on a special tough grade of tinted paper which makes it durable without being bulky and allows of its being studied in bright sunlight without straining the eyes.

This map will be ready for free distribution on Wednesday, July the 13th, at the "Citizens National," northwest corner Fifth and Spring, at the Customers Service Department in the center of the lobby.

vised this suggestion, as the Elks are using the park during their convention for their drill-team work. Price also said that Sycamore Grove would be suitable, but the Park Board has said "No."

After the Council meeting, Mrs. Parker expressed her desire that the city and its boards to enable "Brother Isaiah" to begin his meetings while the Elks are in town, being especially bitter about the large graft which had been made in connection with the meetings.

She said she would not visit the playgrounds, however, unless any other body and that the time and place for holding the foundation by the university school of commerce must build its vitalized group treatment for business training in the major fields of commercial operation and distribution, of finance, and of foreign, public and social service.

MUST TRAIN TEACHERS.

"In training teachers for the secondary school due cognizance must be given to the fact that there are many unmotivated sequences. Departmental or subject teaching is essential. Teachers of technique subjects, like bookkeeping and shorthand, must be given the opportunity to teach in mathematics and English, respectively. The sciences must constantly be related through the materials of commerce, and vice versa."

"They give what is presented in conjunction with the picture of peoples fashioning and distributing the materials of commerce in local, regional, national and world markets. This should be done in sequence at this time a common teacher. For the present some business experience should be required of secondary teachers of business subjects."

"Arrangements for this can be made at the time of the teacher-training courses in the higher institutions. Superb opportunities for practice teaching should have a two-fold objective, namely, correlation of techniques and subject matter to business as well as educational practice."

STOPS WANDERING BATHING BEAUTIES.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.
PASADENA, July 11.—Bathing girls who have the same ideas about costumes as Mack Sennett and who have been wandering about Brookside Park, distracting the attention of tennis players and family picnic parties, so shocked Jake Albrecht, Pasadena park superintendent, today that he issued an order that persons in bathing suits must stay in the bathing pool. No more can bathers wander over to the hot-dog stand. No more can beauty come from her bath and sun her looks and her legs on the greenward of the park. Jake chased five bewitching beauties who were watching a baseball game back into the swimming pool. He said they were interfering with the progress of the ball game, though no protest came from the players or the bleachers.

COUNTY TO JAIL SPEEDERS.

Beware, Mr. Auto Speeder of Los Angeles county from today on!

Los Angeles county will fine up to $1000 for each offense of jail sentences and fines for speeders, according to official announcement made yesterday by the Auto Club of Southern California, following a warning issued to the motoring public by Judge Walter H. Baird.

No longer will the festive speeder or reckless driver "get away with it" in this country, say the judges in charge of handing out punishments.

June marked the high water level of speed violations on county highways, during Judge Baird's administration on the county bench, but July threatens to rise higher. That was the warning yesterday. Judge Hanby, serving on the county bench this month, issued his ultimatum to all motorists entering or operating in this country.

Los Angeles until the entry of the United States into the war.

He attended the officers' training camp at Monterey the summer preceding the declaration of war and was one of the early volunteers in the U.S. Army's reserve ground school training at Berkeley. He completed his aerial education at Foggia, Italy, and was first lieutenant of the Thirteenth Italian Aero Squadron. He became a Correspondent-Major for Fiorilli & Guastini, now president of the Board of Aldermen in New York City. He saw actual service on the Italian front, being engaged in a number of bombing raids on the Italian lines. On one occasion successfully piloted his bombing plane back over the Italian lines after one engine had been disabled by Austrian shrapnel. He received the high commendation of his superiors for his bravery, daring and coolness.

Following his discharge and a brief vacation, he became interested in oil operations, being conducted by his father in New York and Pasadena, Calif. During the past eighteen months he had active supervision of the field operations of the Watchorn Oil and Gas Company, which he founded last year.

Mr. Watchorn was a young man of strong personality, high character and unusual ability, and his passing is keenly felt by a large circle of friends. He was untiring in their care during his illness, and who deeply feel his loss.

Funeral services will be held at the Hollywood Cemetery chapel at 4 p.m. tomorrow.

The services will be conducted by Dr. MacCormick of St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral and the Rev. Dr. E. E. Helm, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church.

Following the first raid on the Yorba Linda a reward of $2500 was offered for the arrest and conviction of any of the guilty men.

"No more speeding or reckless driving on county roads," says the judge. "I have nothing to say about what autoists do in the city, but I am going to shut down on recklessness."

"Los Angeles county does not need the money derived from speed fines, but it is going to stop speeding, and jail sentences from now will be the means employed."

Only $6000 was derived from fines for speeding, and there were 482 cases filed for hearing.

"Los Angeles county will have nothing to do with the county rich. If motorists don't fear fines, then they are going to be introduced to the inside of a jail."

Orange county will have nothing to do with the county rich.

Motors are warned by the Auto Club that county motorcycle officers will be "on the job" more than ever now. Watch your throttle!

Lieut. E. E. Watchorn.

WEAKENED BY WAR SERVICE, HERO DIES.

LIEUT. E. E. WATCHORN, SON OF NOTED OIL OPERATOR, EX-FIRES IN HOSPITAL.

Lieut. Emory Ewart Watchorn, son of Hon. and Mrs. Robert Watchorn, passed away Sunday afternoon at the Good Samaritan Hospital in this city. Early last May, while on a visit to Los Angeles of combined business and pleasure, Mr. Watchorn became ill with acute appendicitis, apparently dating from an attack of pneumonia contracted while in the government service in Italy. At the time Mr. Watchorn was taken ill his parents were in England where they had been vacationing the summer, but he hastened home to his bedside upon receiving cable information of his serious illness.

Mr. Watchorn was born in New York City Oct. 15, 1905, and during the years his father was United States Commissioner of Immigration from the Hollywood High School. He is a student of architecture, which studies he pursued in this country and in Europe and continued his architectural work in the office of Elmer Gray of

TWO JAILED AS SLUGGER GANG HEADS.

Net Seamen's Union Men on Harbor Pier; One Said to Have Confessed.

Believed to be the ringleaders of the "sluggers" gang of the San Pedro Seamen's Union, two men giving the names of Charles Streble, 35 years of age, and Ole Olson, 38, were arrested late yesterday afternoon by Operators Blackman and Cornwall of the Burge Detective Agency and lodged in the City Jail on charges of assault with deadly weapon.

One of the men, according to the police, confessed a part of the beating up of several non-union men.

Following the arrests yesterday, according to Detectives Cornwall and Blackman, probably prevented a second raid by the union men on the tanker Yorba Linda, now at anchor at the harbor. Both Detectives denied any connection in the raid on the tanker some weeks ago, but one stated that a second attack had been planned, and that they had intended to take part.

The men were taken into custody without difficulty on a pier at the harbor. Streble was armed with a pair of brass knuckles and stated that he had used the iron fist to attack nonunion seamen, who deeply feel his loss.

Following the first raid on the Yorba Linda a reward of $2500 was offered for the arrest and conviction of any of the guilty men.

"Hope springs eternal."

REVIEW OF ELKS TO BE GORGEOUS.

Celebrated Drill Teams to Enter Competition.

Twenty-two California Bands Will Vie for Prizes.

Mounted Philadelphians Will be Brilliant Feature.

Bands and drill teams, mounted Elks from Philadelphia, drum corps from the four corners of the country—all these will march today in one of the most respondent events of the entire week's program of the R.P.O.E. convention, when the formal parade and review takes place at Exposition Park beginning at 1 p.m.

Competing for thousands of dollars' worth of prizes, in money and gold silver, long-clothes drill teams, mounted bands, brief exhibitions by some of the drill teams. Today they will see a spectacle at the park which will make the gorgeously dressed Elks look tame by comparison.

Twenty-two California bands have reported as officially entered, and the band competition will be conducted simultaneously with the drill exhibitions. Thirty-eight musical organizations from outside cities also have entered in the event. George Goldsmith, chairman of the local committee, expects a record-breaking number on the field.

The drill teams, garbed in dazzling costumes of red, colors and designs, will produce a brilliant kaleidoscopic effect when three bands laid out close together, all filled with the vivid fire exhibitions.

Already the Angelenos and the crowds of visitors have been treated to impromptu performances by many of the crack band organizations, some of whom have given brief exhibitions by some of the drill teams. Today they will see a spectacle at the park which will make the gorgeously dressed Elks look tame by comparison.

THEY KNEW HE WAS NICE, BUT—

Fair Ones Never Dreamed Councilman Conway Was Named Othello.

The riddle of the Sphinx is small-town stuff compared with the hitherto closely guarded municipal secret which yesterday became a secret no longer.

Especially interesting will this item be to 48,851 men and women—especially the latter—who voted on June 7 for O. P. Conway for the City Council.

For the women voters often said: "Mr. Conway is a nice-looking man, but I wonder what his initials stand for?"

No one knew but Mr. Conway—and he wouldn't tell. For years and years and years he has kept his given names as the darkest and deepest of secrets.

And no wonder! For here is the news:

Councilman Conway's first name, wished on him when he was a helpless babe, is Othello. And the Councilman's middle name is Parker.

event and declares everything will be run off according to program.

One of the most interesting parts of the afternoon's performance will be the drill put on solely for the Marine Corps by a Philadelphia mounted patrol. This event was substituted on the program for the formal guard mount which was to have been made by the local Lodge No. 93, drill corps.

JOINS MATE BEYOND.

other Elks were enjoying for the first time a picnic on the Pacific or were taking in all the amusements. The streets thronged with their shouts of greeting and their laughter. During the afternoon a series of auto sports—swimming races and exhibition diving—were staged for their pleasure at the west end of the municipal pier.

GIRLS ALLURE BILL.

The big feature of the day was the Marine Fashion Review, which swung through the streets at 4 p.m. It gave to Redondo Beach the opportunity to see the latest fashions. Elks in parade array. Eighty-five beautiful girls, adorned in alluring and abbreviated bathing costumes, were on display. Fifty thousand people witnessed the pageant, which opened at the clubhouse, and wound through the streets and down to the pavilion. Were it not for the bathing girls the visiting Elks would still be loitering in the streets of the beach, like the Pilgrims of Hamlin they lured them away. The girls led the parade and the Elks followed.

The crack drill team from Jacksonville, Fla., wore their soubre uniforms of red jackets, blue trousers and white leggings. Behind them marched their band. Then came the Texans from San Antonio in purple and white. Seattle's team swung down the street in uniforms of blue, led by the Seattle band of girls.

Tacoma was represented by a bugle and drum corps. The marching girls in red coats and caps and white trousers.
